

Discussion of needed technologies for fusion power plant

Sam Wurzel

Advanced Research Projects Agency–Energy (ARPA-E)

This talk will briefly review the physics conditions needed to achieve fusion energy gain before discussing technology gaps which, depending on the approach to fusion, must be closed in order to achieve economically competitive fusion energy. A wide variety of fusion approaches and corresponding technology gaps will be discussed.